Franklin D. Roosevelt, a Christian and a Democrat

FDR was influenced by the Episcopal Church, by the Social Gospel movement, by polio, by poverty and war, and, of course, by Democratic politics. A new religious biography examines these influences closely.